(11) All nations must have laws. There are many different kinds of laws that
(12) governments adopt. There are laws who are made to help our cities, states, and
(13) country work better. For instance, we pay sales taxes on items that we buy in a
(14) store. The taxes are used to pay for new roads and for schools. Laws also help
(15) people. There are some laws that set speed limits. If we didn't have no such laws, the number of lives lost in car crashes would greatly increase.

Dear Editor:

- (16) Ralston is a lovely city, but it has a problem with litterbugs. People are not always
(17) careful with their trash. Just last week, I was walking down Main Street, and I saw more empty bottles, napkins, lunch bags, and candy wrappers lying around. I cannot (18) remember when Main Street looked so dirty. Now I ask you, should the city have to (19) hire more workers to clean up our trash? All of us which live in Ralston must become
(20) responsible and throw our trash in the trash bins that is placed on every corner.

Sincerely,

A city resident
